Do you consider the written form of a judgment to be an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 3.45%
- Relevant: 20.69%
- Very relevant: 75.86%

Do you consider the citation of jurisprudence of an international or European jurisdiction in a written judgment as an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 7.14%
- Relevant: 17.86%
- Very relevant: 71.43%

Do you consider the formal style or structure of a written judgment to be an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 3.45%
- Relevant: 13.79%
- Very relevant: 79.31%

Do you consider the citation of national (i.e. of another member state) jurisprudence in a written judgment as an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 10.71%
- Relevant: 39.29%
- Very relevant: 46.43%
Statistics per indicator

Do you consider the clarity of a written judgment to be an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 3.45%
- Relevant: 0.00%
- Very relevant: 93.10%

Do you consider an index of clarity of the judgment, the fact that it provides the administration with all the elements necessary for a correct and timely execution?

- Non-relevant: 0.00%
- Relevant: 20.69%
- Very relevant: 75.86%

Do you consider the conciseness of a judgment to be an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 3.45%
- Relevant: 34.48%
- Very relevant: 62.07%

Do you consider synthetic (or discursive) style of a written judgment (in the broadest sense, that is to say: number of pages and the synthetic of analytical style of writing) to be an indicator of the...
Do you consider analytic style of a written judgment (in the broadest sense, that is to say: number of pages and the synthetic of analytical style of writing) to be an indicator of the quality of a judgment?

- Non-relevant: 10.34%
- Relevant: 41.38%
- Very relevant: 48.28%

Do you consider bibliometric aspects of a judgment (e.g. the average length of a judgment) to be an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 51.72%
- Relevant: 34.48%
- Very relevant: 13.79%

Do you consider that the assessment of the individual quality of judgments is an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 27.59%
- Relevant: 48.28%
- Very relevant: 24.14%

Do you consider that the assessment of the global quality of judgments is an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 41.38%
- Relevant: 34.48%
- Very relevant: 24.14%
Do you consider publishing decisions in a database as an index of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 10.71%
- Relevant: 35.71%
- Very relevant: 53.57%

Do you consider the provision of meta-data as an index of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 17.86%
- Relevant: 64.29%
- Very relevant: 17.86%

Do you consider (formally) binding precedent as an indicator of quality of judgment?

- Non-relevant: 17.86%
- Relevant: 39.29%
- Very relevant: 42.86%