Magistrate Assessment

Evaluating judges' efficiency and speed is part and parcel of a high-quality justice system. Therefore we think it is essential to study the design and operation of the magistrate assessment systems in place in the Councils of State and Supreme Administrative Courts to enable each of the member courts of the Association to evaluate the experiences people have had in this area.

Therefore the seminar, which will be held in Brussels on 30 November 2009, aims to provide an overview of the current situation in the member courts of the Association and the opportunity to discuss the practicability of the different systems.

This seminar will make one's contribution to one of the preoccupations of all the supreme jurisdictions members of the ACA-Europe, which are the improvement of the quality management, public confidence and the access to justice.
